Francisco Delegates Caucus—A List of the Delegates—A Few Pointers— Notes and Comments. The streets were thronged yesterday with elegates to the State Convention. The Democratic statesmen came pouring in on every train, and were met at the depots by the reception committees, who assigned them to quarters at the various hotels, after which they repaired to the headquarters of the various leaders to pay their respects and receive instructions. Secretary Flynn of the State Central Committee and George W. Kelly were on duty at room 7 at the Nadeau, Chairman English's headquarters, during most of the day, where the greatest rush was, and directed the various delegates to their headquarters. Buckley's rooms at the Westminster were also crowded during the greater part of the day, and the "Boss" was kept busy answering questions and giving orders. Terry hung out his banners at the St. Elmo, where he kept open house and pushed his congressional boom. H. M. Larne of Sacramento held forth at the Holenbeck, and made himself agreeable to all comers. There was a report on the street this morning that one of the San Francisco delegation had filled up on bad whisky Sunday, got into a fight Sunday night, and been locked up in the City Prison. This was found, on investigation, to be untrue. The party in question, Arthur S. Atkins, had no connection whatever with the delegation, and is not even a resident of the gation, and is not even a resident of the State, his own claim for recognition being that he rode on the same train with the del-egates. During the afternoon most of the delegates were driven over the city in car-riages, and were the recipients of many social courtesies.

AT THE PAVILION. During the afternoon a TIMES reporter called at the Pavilion, where the finishing called at the Pavillon, where the finishing touches were being put on the decorations, and everything cleaned up for the opening today. The immense auditorium has been arranged after the manner of the dress-circle and parquette of an opera-house, the latter being provided with chairs for the delegates, and the former with benches for the visitors. The decorations are tasteful and appropriate, and the general effect very pleasing. Above the main entrance are two handsome flags, surmounted by a large banner, on which is inscribed:

"We'll all be glad to match again, Our gamey Cleveland with Jim Blaine. We downed them once with gailant Grover, And ready stand to do it over."

Beneath this rather bombastic effusion is Beneath this rather bombastic effusion is a medallion with two uplifted arms, and hands grasping hammers, one white and the other black, encircled by the motto: "By this siga we conquer:" and the words: "Our motto—Equal rights for all." On the right-hand side of the stage is a banner with the following extract from the platform of the recent County Convention: "Democratic victory means emancipation of the people from artificial burdens. The Democracy has in four years reduced the cost of government, wrested millions of acres of the public domain from the clutches of monopolies, largely reduced the public debt, stopped the importation of pauper labor under contract, wisely reduced the surplus and lightened the burden of taxation borne by the mass of the people, and demonstrated its ability to govern the greatest Nation on earth." On the left-hand side is the following: "The line of policy laid down in the last annual message of the President commends itself to us as a sure guarantee of prosperity to all classes of producers, and of that honest protaction to labor long pretended, but never fulfilled by the monopolistic legislation of the Republican party." Draped in front of the stage is a large flag, and pendent from the secret the recent in the secret of the recent in the recent in the secret of the second of the recent in the secret of the recent in t the Republican party." Draped in front of the stage is a large flag, and pendent from the center of the roof are large red, white and blue banners. Around the gallery are flags and shields, alternating, with the inscriptions, "Welcome," and "In Union Is Strength." The hail is also adorned with evergreen, and the stage will also be decorated with palms and tropical plants. The committee having this work in charge have done well, and the result is one of the handsomest halls for convention purposes in the State.

handsomest halls for convention purposes in the State.

IN CAUCUS.

The San Francisco delegation met last night in the dining-room of the Hollenbeck. Rumors were rife as to what would be done in the caucus. One report had it that the "Boss" had drawn off from George W. Kelly for secretary of the convention, and that a strong pull would be made in the caucus to name M. V. Dunleavy for the place.

PRICE: Single Copies & Cents.

Thomas Clunie, candidate for Congress, would hold a levee at the Nadeau House, and would be pleased to see the delegation. Adjourned.

Adjourned.

In Department No. 1 of the Superior Court, yesterday, Christopher A. Buckley, general manager of all the Democracy, W. A. Rodman and Henry Schwartz were arraigned before Judge Cheney on a charge of conducting a gambling place. Neither of the three defendants were present, they being represented by Stephen A. White, Esq., who has been retained as their counsel.

Upon the Court's intimating that in consequence of the crowded state of the calendar, it would be impossible to set the case for an earlier date than some day towards the end of June, counsel explained that Judge Gardner had been approached on the subject, and had kindly consented to try the case and thereby avoid delay. There being no apparent reason why Judge Cheney should not be relieved, it was transferred to the docket of Department No. 2.

"WHITER THAN SNOW!"

"WHITER THAN SNOW!"
Precisely at 2 o'clock Mr. White appeared before Judge Gardiner and stated that while entering a plea of "not guilty" on behalf of Buckley, he would ask for the two days' statutory time allowed in the case of both Rodman and Schwartz. As the defense in the case of Buckley was a denial in toto of the allegations made in the indictment, and was quite distinct and different from that about to be put forward by the other two defendants, who, while admitting their connection with the Turf and Grain Exchange, denied that it was a gambling device, he asked that the cases be severed and that Buckley's be set for the earliest possible day.

Deputy District Attorney Payton opposed the motion. In his opinion the parties had been indicted together for a joint offense, and there were many witnesses that would be seriously inconvenienced by separating them.

Mr. White rejoined that the witnesses whose names appeared on the indictment denied ever having testified before the Grand Jury, and his client repudiated any connection whatever with the game.

"But," answered District Attorney Payton, "Buckley received profits and derived benefits from the game, and, being accessory to it, is just as much implicated as the others. There is little doubt but that it is a thriving game, by which very many men have been swindled out of their money, and not a few completely ruined."

Counsel for Buckley and associates made another little speech in support of his motion, upon which the Court held that there being a difference in the defendant Buckley tried alone. The suggestion that both sides should split the difference, and that Buckley be tried on one indictment singly, while on the other he should be grouped with the others, did not meet with favor.

The next little war of words took place were the acting of the before Judge Gardiner and stated that while entering a plea of "not guilty" on behalf of RUSH IT THROUGH THE COURT. The next little war of words took place over the setting of the case for examination. The Boss's counsel suggested that totion. The Boss's counsel suggested that to-day would be a very convenient time, but the Court scarcely thought it would be fair to the District Attorney to rush the matter so, quickly, and after some-exchange of words it was arranged that counsel and the District Attorney should meet later and de-cide upon some day this week for the ex-amination.

So the matter rests for the present. It is amination.

So the matter rests for the present. It is rather curious to read the utterances of Judge Cheney, as reproduced in the columns of THE TIMES on Sunday last, about the pressure of criminal business, and then see with what significant ease the Buckley case is made to take precedence of so many others. Hitherto the rule has been obserged that if any such favor was to be shown it should be to defendants awaiting trial in jail, who sometimes have been brought to trial before those who might be out on bail.

AT THE HOTELS

AT THE HOTELS last night the delegates filled the lobbies and corridors, talking over the situation and discussing the candidates. The San and discussing the candidates. The San Francisco delegation held a meeting, at which Buckley and the other leading lights were present, and, in consequence, there was not the usual crowd at the Westminster. The rooms of Chairman English, at the Nadeau, however, were kept open during the entire evening, and most of the dele-gates from outside unints congregates here There has been no marked change in the outlook from yesterday. There was some talk on the streets about Judge Green Curtis of Sacramento and Senator James M. Murphy of Del Norte in connection with the chairmanship, but as Judge Curtis is not even a delegate, it is hardly probable that they will cut any figure. Senator del Valle will certainly be the chairman, as he is acceptable to the northern as well as the southern delegations, and will probably be elected by acclamation. A report was also eurrent that Buckley had dropped George W. Kelly for secretary, and turned his influence in this direction for Dan A. Dunleay. A Times reporter saw Mr. Buckley last night, and this gentieman denied the report. He said that Kelly was his friend, and had been promised the place among the first and would certainly be taken care of. Kelly was also seen, and he said he had heard nothing about any change in the programme. It is probable, however, that as there will be two or more secretaries, Dunleavy will also get one of them.

THE CONGRESSIONAL SITUATION tion of the Sixth (Los Angeles). Yesterday morning William R. Burke stated that J. de Barth Shorb was not a candidate. Mr. Shorb is not in the city, and, as Mr. Burke telegraphed him about the matter, it is presumed that he spoke by the card. There was some talk of Senator del Valle, but that gentleman did not give the project much encouragement. The Fresno delegation have pushed Terry for all he was worth, and as J. Marion Brooks was never really in the contest it is probable that the Fresno man will get it.

There was some talk of opposition in the other districts, but not enough could be learned on which to base anything reliable.

In a population estimated at 709,550 there occurred 1005 deaths, which gives a percentage of 1.4 per thousand during the month, or an annual average of 16.8, which will compare favorably with that of any State in th Union. Our greatest mortality is derived from visitors from the East, who with dis-eased lungs seek this coast in pursuit of health; without this constant addition to

Mr. Lovell moved to refer to the Board of Public Works, so far as the communication applied to the cable road. Carried.

THE CABLE ROAD. Some rapid discussion arose over the cable road, but the matter was finally settled by Capt. Barrett in a motion to allow the Mayor and Mr. Crank a week to arrange the trouble.

A petition from a number of ladies was read, asking the appointment of Mrs. Archer as Police Matron, who should be although the statement of the stat ways on duty at the station and attend to the wants of the female prisoners. of the last meeting authorizing the Fire Commissioners to purchase a lot on York street as a site for an engine-house. The motion was seconded by Mr. Collins. Dr. Sinsabaugh favored the Washington-street site and argued its acceptance. Mr. Barrett presented a protest from 40 members of the Parker Chapel, protesting against the York-street engine-house. Dr. Sinsabaugh said, as Mr. Barrett had gone over to that church and allied himself with them, he (Sinsabaugh) would acquiesce in Mr. Barrett's motion to give up the site.

A proposition was read at this point from Dr. J. H. Bryant, offering lot 4, Washington Garden tract, to the city for $5000.

Mr. Lovell said that the fire department was now $452 in debt, and thought the matter ought to go over for some time. The motion to reconsider was put and carried, and Mr. Barrett moved that the City Attorney draft an ordinance authorizing the Fire Commissioners to purchase David Waldron's lot-on-Washington-street, near the head of Hillstreet. Mr. Lovell here interposed and stated that the fire department was in debt. Mr. Barrett replied that whenever Mr. Lovell wanted anything on his side of town he never thought of the indebtedness, but when anybody else wanted anything he always brought up that awful question of the $452.

Dr. Sinsabaugh moved to refer the whole matter to the Fire Commissioners. Capt. Barrett voted no, but when he saw that the motion would carry he changed his vote, and announced that he would meve a reconsideration at the next meeting.

REPORTS.

The report of the Board of Public Works was read and the recommendations approved.

The special building committee reported

The special building committee reported that a change was necessary in the construction of the vaults in the new City Hall, and recommended that the proposition of John Hanian to do the work for $1743 be accepted. Adopted.

Dr. Widney was in the room and appeared before the Council to speak in regard to the paving of First street. He wanted some information as to whether the bituminous lime rock paving would stand. The heaviest trucks in the city would be constantly passing in the street and it would require good paving to hold up, and the citizens were saying that the bituminous lime rock was not satisfactory.

Capt. Barrett replied to him that the lime rock was in every way satisfactory, but the rock was in every way satisfactory, but the best pavement was made by putting in a foundation of broken rock and then filling up to the surface with bituminous lime rock; this rock to be steam heated, not burned in vats.

Dr. Widney then asked that when the matter of paving First street should come up action should be delayed for a time to allow the property owners to express. low the property owners to express their opinions.

Capt. Barrett was the instrument in bringing up that Turf and Grain Exchange. He moved that the money collected from

Mr. Sinsabaugh presented the evidence of J. H. Williams, in charge of Santa Fé en-gine No. 25, which killed a man some time gine No. 25, which killed a man some time ago. The man swore he was running 18 miles an hour. Dr. Sinsabaugh said this was right in the teeth of the city ordinance. Mr. Collins moved to instruct the Chief of Police to arrest engineers whenever one was found running his engine faster than six miles an hour, and bring him to the police station. Mr. Dunn stated that, in his opsnion, this was the best plan to stop the perilous running. Motion was carried.

The Council then, on motion of Dr. Sinsabaugh, took a recess until 1:30 p.m.

Afternoon Session. At 1:30 but two members had entered the hall. Others came in slowly, and it looked strikingly like there would not be a quorum. The coming convention had absorbed every the coming convention had absorbed every other interest, and all through the morning session business was transacted in a listless, languid way that told only too plainly that the hearts of haif the Councilmen were galloping, so to speak, around town with the Democratic delegation. The body was called to order just before 2 o'clock, and business was opened. ousiness was opened.

The Zanja Committee report was received and the recommendations adopted.

STREET WORK

A communication was read from the Street Superintendent, saying that some of the city ordinances regulating his work conficted, and created confusion, and he asked that the body take some action to rectify the trouble. On motion of Mr. Barrett, the communication was received and filed. That recommendation saying that the three horses now used by the Street Superintendent were useless and should be disposed of, called for some discussion. Mr. Collins finally moved that the Board of Public Works be empowered to sell the old horses and purchase such other animals as are necessary. Carried.

The ordinance granting to the San Gabriel Valley Rapid Transit Railway a franchise for the construction of an elevated railroad in the city of Los Angeles was, on motion of Capt. Jacob Starr notified the Council that he had been cut off from his irrigating water by the Zanja Committee, and, unless he was given redress, he would take action in the courts. Mr. Collins said that the Council was not in duty bound to furnish Mr. Starr water. They had advertised to condemn Zanja No. 5, and Mr. Starr had registered no complaint then. He moved to refer to no complaint then. He moved to the City Attorney. Carried.

The report of the Fire Commissioners was read. Mr. Collins moved that the new fire limits be amended by taking in the west side of Fort street from Temple to First. Carried. Mr. Lovell then moved the adoption of the ordinance as amended. Carried, Mr. Collins then moved that the Clerk be instructed to secure the printing of 500 copies of the ordinance.

OIL PEOPLE REV.

OIL PEOPLE KICK.

Mr. Sanders came before the Council and said that he was the agent of the Standard Oil Company. He had a short time ago re-oil Company. He had a short time ago received a note from the City Clerk notifying him to stop work on a building which the company were erecting on their own premises. He wanted to know what stand the Council were going to take µpon the subject. The building they were erecting was in every way in compliance with the ordinance. He asked that the order be rescinded, and that the company be permitted to go on with the work.

Mr. Chandler moved that the request be granted. Mr. Cohn said that the land upon which the building stood was the property of the city. The agent denied the assertion. Mr. Humphreys said that the matter ought to be referred to the Land Committee for an investigation. Mr. Cohn got red in the face and said the Council never would know anything without investigations, and, delivering himself of this weighty opinion, the gentleman left his seat and hustled out of the hall, in apparent disgust with the work of the honorable body of which he was an honorable member.

OBSTRUCTING THE STREETS.

The question of the obstructions of the streets and sidewalks was brought up by a petition for space in the street in front of the new theater on Spring street. Mr. Lovell said the Council must be careful in making rules about street obstruction, as it might retard improvements. Discussion upon the rules now in existence brought out the fact that they only applied to the out the fact that they only applied to the street, and not to the pavement, and all the obstruction on the pavement was a direct violation of the law. On motion, the matter was referred to the Board of Public Works, to draft new rules covering both street and sid-walk obstruction.

MAIN-STREET CARLE.

MAIN-STREET CABLE.

Mr. Ferguson appeared before the body and made a claim that the Main-street cable and made a claim that the Main-street cable line, as it was being laid now, would interfere seriously with the business of the street. Mr. Crank, president of the cable company, replied, and said that the line had been changed to avoid covering up the pipes of the City Water Company.

Mr. Lovell moved that the line be moved four feet east of its present position. Carried.

THE MAYOR'S OPINION. A communication from the Mayor, stating that he favored the idea of removing the street-car stable from Sixth and Pearl to street-car stable from Sixth and Pearl to Ninth street, was read and filed.

The report of the Board of Health was read. It recommended that the Health Officer be authorized to employ a competent physician to act as police surgeon, at a salary not to exceed $50 per month. Dr. H. W. Fenner was named for the position. On motion of Mr. Sinsabaugh, the City Attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance creating such an office. It was further recommended that the bid of J. M. Tibbitts of $5450 to erect a city hospital be accepted. The recommendation was adopted, and the City Attorney instructed to draft a contract.

A third recommendation that the Clerk advertise for bids for 3000 feet, more or less, of dipped two-inch from water-pipe was adopted.

The matter of a meat inspector was sub-nitted to whatever action the Council might choose to take, and was postponed for one week.

TENTH-STREET SEWERS.

A resolution of intention to construct ewers on Tenth, Santee and Twelfth streets was passed.

CEMENT WALKS. Mr. Hanley offered a motion to lay ment walk on the southeast side of San Fernando street from Elmira street to Downey avenue. Carried, and the City Attorney instructed to draft an ordinance.

MR. HUMPHREYS KICKS.
President Humphreys here reprimanded the Council for their lax attention, saying that they would never finish the day's work at the present rate. The members had paired off and were engaged in conversa-tion, paying little or no attention to the FINANCE COMMITTEE.

The Finance Committee made a brief report. Among the other recommendations was one naming D. D. Morton for a posi-tion as inspector of sewers at a salary of $100 per month. Mr. Loveil explained that the gentleman had been in the employ of the city for two years and was a good man. On a technicality the recommendation was lost, and an order was made to strike it out of the report.

Mr. Gibbs, at the close of the report, made a motion that the City Attorney has in was one naming D. D. Morton for a posi

Mr. Gibbs, at the close of the report, made a motion that the City Attorney be instructed to draft an ordinance creating the office of Sewer Inspector. Mr. Collins said the Council might put itself in a trap by making any such office, as after a while the work might be dispensed with. Thereupon Mr. Gibbs withdrew his motion.

THE PESTHOUSE. A protest was read from a number of citi zens kicking against the erecting of a pest-house in Elysian Park. Referred to Board of Health.

PUBLIC MONEYS. Proposal was received from the Califor-nia Bank to receive and disburse the public moneys of the city, according to the condi-tions prescribed in the advertisement for bids, and to pay one-tenth of 1 per cent, per month on the deposit. Referred to the Finance Committee.

POLICE COMMISSION. The recommendation of the Police Commissioners regulating the charges of hackmen was read. Mr. Hanley moved to lay over one week. Mr. Lovell said that he hoped Mr. Hanley wouldn't insist on that notion, as there were a good many visiting Democrats in town, and he didn't want to see them imposed on. Mr. Hanley said he had forgotten the great unwashed, but would move to refer to the Police Commissioners for a week, as the Democrats could stand it that long. Carried.

BUILDING INSPECTOR.

BUILDING INSPECTOR. The ordinance creating the office of Building Inspector and defining his duties was ing Inspector and defining his duties was laid over a week. Another ordinance providing against the erection of a building without a permit was treated in the same style. The members were growing weary. Notices of intention to change and establish grade of a number of streets were read and adopted.

An ordinance providing for the widening and improving of Wall street was presented and laid over a week.

The body then adjourned. Altog ether it was the most listless, don't-care day's business ever transacted by the Council. Little attention was pald to anything, and there was not sufficient interest to get up a quarrel. The voting was done in a mechanical way, as though the members had no idea of what they were voting upon. Two-thirds of the time was taken up in useless, peintless palaver about nothing.

road matter is from the Chronicle of the 13th:

"If the Southern Pacific Company's steamer Eureka is not heard from soon, its loss may be set down as the latest of the series of misfortunes which has befallen the "Sunset" route. The Eureka was one of the steamers running between New York and New Orleans, and supplying the long link in the chain by which the Southern Pacific Company enters New York. Last Monday the British steamer Benison, from Mantanzas to Philadelphia, was towed into Norfolk, Va., in distress, and reported having been in collision with the steamer Eureka, which was on her way to New Orleans. The accident occurred in a fog, and it is supposed that the vessels, after clearing, soon lost sight of each other, no signals being exchanged. When the fog lifted the Eureka was no where in sight, and it was feared by those on board the Benison that she had sunk. Local merchants are interested in the loss of the Eureka to a considerable extent. She was loaded down with California freight, much of which was merchandise for San Francisco.

WON'T TALK.

"At Southern Pacific headquarters here there is very little to be learned by reporters regarding the accident. Ignorance of the affair is pleaded all around. But while the press is kept in the dark, the officials are not averse to giving information 'for private use, only,' and it was through such a channel that a Chronicle reporter learned yesterday that little doubt is entertained at Fourth and Townsend streets as to the loss of the steamer.

"'Altogether there are about 75 carloads of San Francisco freight on the Eureka,' said the reporter's informant, 'and as five days have passed singe anything has been heard from her, the consignees here are getting very anxious about their goods. The worst of it is, the Southern Pacific Company has no insurance on the freight, and it will be a dead loss to the company unless the vessel turns up all right at New Orleans. This is one of the disadvantages of not having an all-rail route to the East, or at least, of not utilizing those available."

"Commercial Agent Fietcher told the reporter that the 15th instant would be about the date to look for further information regarding the fate of the Eureka.

me date to look for further information regarding the fate of the Eureka.

"E. C. Sessions, owner of the Fruitvale street-car line, is reported to have received an offer of purchase of his road from the Southern Pacific Company. The railroad people want to buid a belt line about the city of Oakland, running up under the foothills and extending from West Berkeley to Charles Crocker's 160-acre tract near Piedmont, with a possible extention to Fruitvale, and the possession of Sessions's line would aid them in their project. Sessions is willing to dispose of his street-car line, with the franchise permitting the use of steam upon it, but before the road will be taken by the Southern Pacific Company he must secure the extension of his charter for 25 years for building a connecting line along Commerce street to the Southern Pacific track in Fruitvale.

resulting from the increase in business,

"Superintendent Fillmore of the South Pacific Coast line and Superintendent Bassett of the Northern division of the Southern Pacific have been at Santa Cruz arranging for the consolidation of the offices and depots of the two roads there. Mr. Fillmore said yesterday that it was probable that a union depot would be built on a tract belonging to the narrow-gauge company near the beach. As the two roads are now operated by one management, there is no longer any desire to maintain separate offices at Santa Crut, and it is believed that the change would be of advantage to the public."

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Colville's Lecture.

Los Angeles, May 14.—(To the Editor of The Times.) On Sunday evening, at Odd Fellows' Hall, W. J. Colville delivered a very remarkable lecture on the origin, history and death of the devil to a very large and deeply interested audience. The lecturer, who has a great command of language and speaks rapidly, though with very distinct enunciation, is the course of a lecture occupying 90 minutes discussed the devil question pretty thoroughly in its various aspects. Commencing with the story of the temptation of Adam and Eve, he declared that the four leading characters in the story—God, Adam, Eve and the serpent—corresponded to the four elements of which we are all more or less conscious. The voice of God is heard in our moral sense, the affections are represented by Eve, the intellectual faculties by Madam and the animal proclivities by the serpent. Now, as the serpent was a creature of less good in its place, but evil out of its delightful sphere, it exactly corresponded to man's lower instincts, which are the means of human downfall when yielded to at the expense of higher promptings. In the book of Job Satan or the accuser proves Job's best friend is only a personification in an old epic poem of all that tries us while on earth. In the New Testament devils or unclean spirits signify the lower and perverted.

If anything is to be done in the way of a change. Also he says: "The citizens are entitled to their opinions and exercised the rights of American citizens in expressing them." That is very good, but if Editor Vail will use the say old as the Constitution of the United States we will enjoy reading his paper much more. The writer is an American, born and bred, which Editor Vail infers is not so by using such old expressing them." That is very good, but if Editor Vail will will the light of American citizens in the course of a fast and speak states we will enjoy reading his paper much more. In the book of Job Satan or the accuser proves Job's best friend is only a personification in an old epic poem of all that tries us while on earth. In the New Testament devils or unclean spirits signify the lower and perverted instinct of man which need repression and casting out. The orthodox Christian idea of a literal personal devil, the speaker utterly repudiated, and after remarking on Milton's Satan and Goethe's Mephistopheles ended his discourse by earnestly urging the theory that an acknowledgement of suprime and infinite goodness and constant dwelling in tho't upon it and aspiration toward it was the only true means of moral education and human elevation in general. An outside devil of almost omnipotent strength is far too convenient a scapegoat on to which moral responsibility can readily be shifted. Only as we seek to find the source of our weakness and the occasion of our temptation and pull in our own unbridled passions can we achieve moral victories and thereby develop sterling character. According to this theory all men are good in the deepest interior of their being, all will at length forsake evil and choose good. Everlasting evil is an impossibility a universe created, sustained and governed by infinite benificence. The death of the error of his way & in the final restituti

Beating the Bell-punch. Los Angeles, May 14.—[To the Editor of The Times.] An article in THE TIMES of today recalls experience in street-car business. The writer has conducted in the East, North and South on horse cars and cablacars, and was guilty, like all other conductors, of "knocking down," but, luckily, never caught. He afterward became a full-fledged inspector (spotter) on Chicago cable lines. (I inclose clippings sent me recently from Chicago from a conductor there.) We (I say we, as frequently the company had from 30 to 50 men at work on the spotter list.) worked early and late through all kinds of weather. I've worked 12 to 18 hours straight when the mercury was away below zero, and would not be near a fire for all that time, and would take a big hour to thaw myself out and get warm, so I could go to bed with any degree of comfort, but in warm weather it was a delightfully cool place to work. The morning and evening rushes were hard to work, many crews (by that I mean conductors and gripmen) pulling one grip-car and coach. We would haul 800 to 2000 passengers per day, of 12 to 15 hours. I have worked trains that would have 125 passenger, between 5:30 and 6:30 a.m., and theater loads, and on similar occasions have on board 150 to 180 passengers; and those were the times when both conductors and spotters would get their work in. The gripman and conductors were paid by the trip; spotters were paid by the hour. I have ridden 100 miles a day in street cars, and could ride a whole week without seeing the same conductor the second time; and at times again we would form acquaintances with conductors, and they would form such an attachment to us that, should we go through to the end of the route, we were sure of a cigar or a drink of beer or whisky, but of course our identity was unknown. If not, a brick or slug would greet us instead of "Come and let's have something." There are many incidents, too numerous to tell in this way, that are amusing to the public and interesting to street-car employés and officials, as 'tis not small corporations that can carry on so extensively and expensively a large corps of workers in that line, ence in street-car business. The writer has conducted in the East, North and South on horse cars and cable cars, and

LAMANDA PARK, May 10.—[To the Editor of The Times.] As you kindly published my communication of the 80th ult., and Mr. Editor Vail of the Pasadena Star has seen fit to reprint it, making comments thereon, I request again the use of your columns to answer him. With the usual conceit of Pasadena, as ably represented by Editor Vail, he says: "If 'A Lover of Truth' is interested in having La-manda Park annexed to Pasadena," etc., etc., as though annexation to his burg is the height of the desires of all the surrounding portions of the San Gabriel Valley. I wish to say that he is greatly mistaken in taking that view of the case as the writer had no intention of aiding any such plan for the opinions of the entire citizenship of Lamanda Park and vicinity as far west as Hill avenue, with the exception of two or three persons, are opposed to annexation, but rather desire a separate incorporation,

We Believe in Legitimate Competition.

Our business for the past week is a forcible illustration that Hale & Co. have the confidence of the people. Why? Because every idea advanced is carried out in its entireness. Why? Because the people have come to believe that if Hale & Co. make an assertion it must be the decided truth. Why? We know that our institution is not a perfect oneno human building will ever be-but we do know as a certainty that Hale & Co. enjoy the confidence of the people as legitimate dry goods merchants. Why legitimate? Well, in the first place, Hale & Co. never detract from the success of any honest calling. Hale & Co. have never found it necessary or have been forced by a waning trade to add to a legitimate business a few "boots and shoes, split leather, calf or kid," or seeking to compete with a clothier with a few dozen pairs of "misfit pants." No. Hale & Co. have all they want to do in the pursuit of a legitimate dry goods business without erecting a "candy stand" or a "book-shelf" in the rear of their store. Hale & Co. have let alone, severally, the "millinery emporium," the "art rooms" and "hardware store." Neither have we antagonized the drugstores by advertising a job lot of (San Francisco) sponges imported for our "colossal business" direct from "Smyrna, Italy." Our early teaching has taught us to go beyond Italy to find this ancient city in the Ægean inlet on the coast of Asia Minor. Now, if Hale & Co. place a genuine bargain in either one of their show windows, but a few hours will elapse and then, tinkle, tinkle, goes the chestnut bell. The Whited Sepulchre opens wide its anatomical museum. The magic lantern exhibition commences. The unnatural "freaks" vie with each other in classical selections. The small boy on the outside of the window, with amazement depicted on his countenance, wonders at the "comprehensive" overture, and the rest-well, we leave the rest in the hands of the people.

In conclusion, we would advise our competitor to offer a fair, square competition, and will quote for his sake the well known saying: "That he can fool all the people some of the time; that he can fool some of the people all the time; but he cannot fool all the people all the time.

What is the use of paving the streets if railroad companies are given free scope to tear them up again and leave them in a horrible condition? There is an ordinance providing that when a company tears up a street it shall deposit a sum of money as security that the pavement or roadbed shall be replaced in as good a condition as that in which it was found. This ordinance is not enforced. The citizens are becoming very tired of the manner in which a majority of the City Council permit the street railroads to exercise their own sweet will upon our streets.

Council has already taken initiatory steps towards making our parks attractive, as suggested in an interview printed in THE TIMES on Sunday. In their new departures the City Fathers have avoided a slavish imitation of old-world or eastern park systems, and have struck upon an idea decidedly original and unique-one which may, perhaps, be regarded as the founda-tion of a new school of public landscape gardening. The Professor opens by asserting that there is more wealth in the vicinity of Los 'Angeles-mineral wealth, of course, understood-than in all the rest of the world. This monster vein, compared with which the pyramids of Egypt, the Washington miles wide. The vein runs through ward across the continent. This is a width is fully as remarkable, it being according to the Professor, no less than 500 miles wide! A vein of gold ore five feet wide, that will pay to mill, is generally considered a pretty big bonanza by mining men, but what shall we say to one that is more than twice as wide as the State of California? "Oranges and grape vines are very good in their way," sententiously remarks Mr. Defty, "but what are they to be compared to gold?" What, indeed, Professor!-or to suckers? He does not stop at gold, however, this wonderful man. We can find, says he, silver, tin, quicksilver, coal, gas, iron, oil, copper and lead. There is one important

What truly touching self-abnegation, and how rarely are such sentiments

If he imagines that he has struck a field where the people are absolutely ignorant of mining matters, he is sailing away off the track. There are far too many men here who have earned and paid dearly for an experience gained in the mineral fields of the Pacific Coast. while the rest of our citizens have too recently burned their fingers in wildcat paper cities, to care to venture so soon in wildcat mining schemes. There is lots of gold scattered through Southern California, and there is lots of silver contained in the waters of the ocean. While there is no reason why paying deposits of the precious metals may no be found in this section, our citizens, in their efforts to discover such deposits, will not be likely to avail themselves of the services of a person who talks so wildly and foolishly as does this remarkable specimen of the genus mining expert whose statements we have been critcising.

There is quite an amount of dialogue, for which the audience seemed to care very little, but when the song and dance came in they were enthusiastic in their delight, and the palpable absurdities of the serious parts of the drama seemed to cause them very little concern. Whenever Rosa kicked, or winked, or indulged in a little hoodlum slang, or imitated a hoodlum walk, the applause was the loudest and the verdict of approval seemed to be indorsed by a large majority. The Pavilion looked very gay in its decorations, intended for the Democratle pow-pow today.

The play is one of the many belonging to the vast middle ground between the real drama and actual rubbish. When Joe Lynch, the heavy editor of the

But such was the case, and oceans of tears will flow when Joe's numerous Los Angeles girls read in The Times this morning that he has taken to himself a charming wife. She was not a Los Angeles girl, and but little is known in this city of the courtship. The bride's name was Miss Belle Stewart and she is the daughter of a prominent lawyer, who is Joe's cousin. She is said to be very pretty, and is only 19 years of age. The marriage took place last Thursday in St Louis. They will return by the northern route. It seems that Joe made up his mind to try matrimony when he learned that he was not a success in politics, and it is to be hoped that he will never regret his decision. he has taken to himself a charming wife, building at Reno, Nev.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the Tariff Bill.

Mr. Hatch of Missouri said that protective tariff had inured to the benefit of manufacturers alone. Farmers and the consuming masses had no share in these benefits. He was opposed to the present system of protection, and regretted that the pending bill preserved every single feature of that system. The measure was simply a proposition of modification and reduction, but the principles of protection were fastened on the country, and all that could be hoped for today, and that was all the bill sought to accomplish, was areduction of the amount of taxation collected by the Government and put into the treasury. He argued at length in favor of the pending bill.

Mr. Symes of Colorado said that the President had shown entire want of comprehension of the whole tariff system when he told the farmer in one paragraph that protective tariff was wrong, and in the next attempted to show the manufacturer that he would be benefited by the placing of raw material on the free list. The President had forgotten or ignored the fact that the placing of raw material on the free list would ruin the agricultural, mining and other industries of the country. He argued that it was the capitalist, monopolist and importing merchanf, and those who derived their moome from bonds and some other investments, who were clamoring for free trade, and that it was the employer of the working man and those who built up the industries of the country who demanded a protective tariff. He would make the protection of American labor from foreign competition the keystone in the arch of American institutions. He would make the protection of American institutions.

Mr. Funston of Kansas argued in favor of protection.

Nr. O'Neill of Indiana argued for putting lumber, coal and iron on the free list, because he thought in those products the country could compete with the world without there being any tariff on them.

Mr. Thompson of Ohio spoke in opposition to the pending measure and said that the surplus should be devoted to rebuilding the navy, to restoring our commercial marine to the proud position it once occupied, to the development and improvement of internal transportation, to the payment of ilberal pensions to old soldiers who have made all the bromise of our future possible. The people will rot complain; they will sanction and approve it all.

Mr. Strubble of Iowa said that among the things, some commendable. Some despicable, done by the present administration, at least three could not escape the condemnation of the people. The President had first attacked the silver dollar, then the greenback, and then the protective system under which the Government had frown and prospered, and by reason of which it had attained financially, commercially and intellectually the proud distinction accorded it by the civilized world.

The committee then rose.

On motion of Mr. Carrick of Wyoming the Senate bill granting to Wyoming tacres of land on the Ft. Sanders military reservation for a fish hatchery and other public purposes was taken up and passed.

LEGAL DECISIONS.

The Supreme Court Decides Several Important Cases. WASHINGTON, May 14.—[By the Associ-

This ap-plication for a writ of habeas corpus arose out of the celebrated Hatfield-McCoy ven-detta, and is brought here on appeal from the Circuit Court, which declined to issue a writ. Mahon, who is a citizen of West Virginia, was indicted in 1887 by the Cir-cuit Court of Pike county, Ky., on the charges of wilful and deliberate murder. The Governor of West Virginia refused to comply with the requisition of the Gover-nor of Kentucky for Mahon's person in January last. Phillips, as agent for Ken-tucky, and others, seized Mahon in West Virginia and forcibly carried him into Kenvirginia and rolesby carried in mo Rein-tucky. The Governor of West Virginia made formal demand for Mahon's release, which was refused, and application was then made for a writ of habeas corpus. It was contended on behalf of Mahon that the action of Phillips was a violation of the Constitution, and without due process of law, while counsel for the State of Kenlaw, while counsel for the State of Ken-tucky maintained that while the act of Phillips in selzing Mahon was unauthor-ized, the State of Kentucky was fully jus-tified in holding him when found within her borders, and that the question of how he came there was not one to be considered. Any remedy sought to be applied, it was asserted, must be brought against Phillips for trespass, and not against the State of Kentucky. Justice Bradley dissented.

The Court also rendered an opinion in the case of George Benson, appellant, vs. Juan. N. Navarro, Mexican Consul General and the Reputb'ic of Mexico. This is an application for a writ of habeas corpus brought here by appeal from the Circuit Court tor the Southern District of New York, that court having denied the application for a writ. This court sustains the decision. This case is known as the Patti ticket swindling case of the City of Mexico.

The Court also rendered an opinion denying the application of Coy and Bernhamer for a writ of habeas corpus. These cases are better known as the tally sheet election frauds. The cases all grow out of frauds alleged to have been committed in Marion county, Ind., in the election last November. Coy and Bernhamer were convicted of complicity in frauds, and it was contended on behalf of the prisoners that the Federal Court had no jurisdiction to try them, as alleged election frauds concerned only the county ticket, and did not affect the Congressional election. Opinion by Justice Miller, with Justice Fields dissenting.

The Supreme Court today denied application for a rehearing of the telephone case. This application was made by the Peoples' and Overland Telephone Company, who claim that Drawbauth, and not Bell, was the first inventor of the telephone.

Justice Miller announced the opinion of the court orally. He simply said that as none of the three Justices who had concurred in the opinion of Chief Justice Waite, upholding the validity of the Bell patent, had requested are hearing and that as it was a settled rule of the court not to grant rehearings unless this was done, the application must be denied.

The Supreme Court rendered a decision in the case of the United States, appellant, vs. McLaughlin et al., from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of California. The suit was brought in this case by the Government against the Central Pacific Railway Company and McLaughlin et al., as holders of patents to lands lying along the route of the railroad between Stockton and Sacramento, and claimed to be part of the grant to the railroad company. The Government claimed that the patents were issued for this land as railroad land by mistake; that the land was in the exterior boundaries of a Mexican grant known as the Moquelokmas grant, which formed the basis of coatest. The railroad company contended that the eastern boundary was only intended to go to the foothills, which would make the territory described contain nearly twice the amount granted. Grants of that kind, it was explained, of a certain quantity to be located in a larger area are called fioating grants. The Government contended that the lands within the exterior boundaries of this grant were reserved from sale or other disposition, being under examination in the courts, and that the railroad grant did not take effect at any point within the limits of this Mexican grant, the railroad having been located across the grant. This was true with regard to Mexican entered nunc pro tune as of October 10, 1877. Cases 11 and 12 involved the same points as those set forth in the above, and were de-those set forth in the above, and were decided similarly.

Justice Miller announced the following order: "It is now ordered that all cases on the docket not decided, and all other business of the term not disposed of by the court be, and the same is, hereby continued until the next term of the court."

sions has reported a bill proposing to remove restrictions upon the payment of arrearages of pensions in cases of claims filed before the passage of the bill.

The bill is a substitute for a number of bills on the same subject. It authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to adjust all pension claims on account of disability from injuries incurred since March 4, 1861, filed on and after July 11, 1880, and up to the date of the passage of the bill; also directing the Secretary to adjudicate all such claims allowed or filed, as if they had been filed prior to July 1, 1880. The report accompanying the bill says: "We place this bill upon the ground that it is the only legislation upon the subject now practicable, not that it does full justice. It will be borne in mind, however, that it does not prohibit legislation hereafter that will put all pensioners upon an equality, but, on the contrary, it strengthens their claims to supplementary legislation that will give them arrears. We shall be able to submit estimates clearly approximating the cost of this legislation, and for the present venture the assertion that it will not exceed $250,000,000, and suggest to the House in this connection that it affords the very best means of disbursing the present surplus."

Some members of the committee being away, the impression was that it had been referred to the subcommittee.

London an Easy Prey in Case of Foreign Invasion.

Slavery Finally Abolished in Brazil-Dr. Mackenzie Speaks Discouragingly About Emperor Frederick's Chances of a Permanent Recovery.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, May 14.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The House of Lords was crowded this afternoon with people, who desired to hear Lord Wolseley's defense. Wolseley said that he could not see how unprejudiced persons could construe his remarks into an attack upon the Government. In the position which he occupied in the administration of the army, he could not fail to be fully aware of what Stanhope had done and was doing to render the army efficient. He admitted that the present Government had done much toward improving military defenses. He still adhered to his evidence given before the com mission of inquiry word for word, and had nothing whatever to withdraw. As long as the navy was as weak as it is now, the army could not hold its own, dispersed as it was all over the army could not hold its own, dispersed as it was all over the world. The defenses at home and abroad were in bad condition. The military forces were not organized as they should be; they did not guarantee even the safety of the capital. He did not want to create a panic, but he maintained that the condition of the country was such that if a force of 100,000 men succeeded in effecting a landing and were properly handled, there was no reason why they might not take possession of the country. He made this statement with a full appreciation of his responsibility. He had been tempted to resign on Saturday afternoon on reading what Lord Salisbury had said. He could not take the initiative in the matter, but he placed himself in the hands of the Premier. He did not intend to cast a slur on the Government. He had endeavored to the best of his lights to serve his sovereign and his country. [Cheers.]
Lord Salisbury held that his strictures upon Lord Wolseley's statement at a recent dinner were fully warranted. At the same time, he accepted Lord Wolseley's disavowal of any Intention to attack the Government. He only hoped that if Lord Wolseley had occasion to assail the Administration in future he would do so in the House. He trusted that Lord Wolseley's statement regarding the weakness of the country's defenses would be seriously. He would regret the General's leaving the service as the greatest blow that could fall on the military administration. Lord Wolseley's statement regarding the weakness of the country's defenses would be seriously inquired into. Meantime, he deprecated the practice of officers speaking over the heads of the Government, and thus destroying ministrative machine, ["Hear! hear!"]

THE KAISER.

What Dr. Mackenzie Says of Emperor Frederick's Case. London, May 14.—"By Cable and Asso-ciated Press.] The Pall Mail Gazette prints the following interview between Mr. Stead and Dr. Mackenzie:

Dr. Mackenzie looked worn and anxious and showed traces of the long vigils he has maintained in his attendance upon the Emperor. During the interview he was repeatedly summoned to the Emperor's room. He stated to Mr. Stead that his patient is all that could be desired in the way of temper, patience and cheerfulness. He is obedient and trustful, and as well disposi-tioned as a child. He bears pain bravely and does not indulge in needless worrying. Rumors that he had asked the chaplain to pray for his release from his sufferings and that he longed for death were untrue.

"It is by no means certain," said the Doctor, "that he has made up his mind that he is dying. He does not suffer from the canula, although inflammation and sloughing away of portions of dead cartilage cause him inconvenience. Reports of a bad odor pervading the sick room are gross exaggerations. Until His Majesty's recent severe attack of illness he sat at the table at meal times with his family, and went about and he did not discommode any one."

The Doctor said that if the Emperor's strength improved he hough he could be

Although apparently robust, His Majesty has not much recuperative power, and this circumstance would have rendered fatal the operation proposed in May of last year. Dr. Mackenzle said, in conclusion: "The Emperor is certainly suffering from perichondritis, which, with the disease of the cartilages, is very dangerous, though not necessarily fatal. ## DERBY DAY.

The Great Racing Event at Louisville.

A Chicago Horse Carries Off the Honors in Grand Style.

The Favorite Beaten by the Almost Unknown Macbeth.

Exciting Scenes During the Great Race-How the Winner's Jockey Handled His Horse-Previous Record of Macbeth-A Bomanza to His Owner.

Bu Telegraph to The Times.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.); May 14.- [By the Asciated Press. | Another Kentucky Derby another great thoroughbred crowned with the laurel wreath of victory and excellence, bestowed where superiority in horse flesh is best understood, leaps into fame and brings his owner a fortune. Macbeth, the great dark son of Macduff, dam Agnes, belonging to the well-known Chicago stable of Hankins, is the equine hero in Kentucky tonight, and though the choice of the sons of the blue grass turfmen was the fine-looking chestnut son of Falsetto, Gallifet, they tip their glasses to the Chicago winner with the plaudit that it was well and nobly done. The first day of the Louisville spring meeting was cold, threatening and disagree-able, but the chilling western wind did not prevent the attendance of an immense throng at Churchill's downs. If anything, the crowd was larger than that of last year, and when the sun shone our shortly after the first race, its beams fell on a mass of humanity which filled the grandstand, lawn, betting-booths, field and every spot from which a sight of the track was obtainable. Vehicles of every description, the tops covered with black forms, filled the Derby field, and the fence along the track for a quarter of a mile on either side of the timer's stand was surged against by a pushing mob. The track was about as fast as it ever is, being considered by the trainers a second or two slow. The judges were the regular ones, Col. C. F. Gray and Col. Lew Clark. The starter was James Cald well.

The Derby was the great one of the day and of the meeting. Gallifet and Alexan-dria, composing the Melbourne stable entry, sold good favorites and lots of good Ken-tucky shekels went, on odds of 4 to 5. The Chevalier was next in favor at 3 to 1, the odds against the others being about 13 to 1, White 6 to 1, Macbeth 8 to 1, Zeb Ward 10 to 1, Long Roll, the Sharper entry, being scratched half an hour before the Gallifet and Alexandria were first to show on the track, and they were greeted with cheers as they swung by the stand in a half-mile spin together. The Chevelier, a magnificent black colt, received an ovation as he went past the stand, indicating what was known to be a fact, that his backers were numerous and enthusiastic. White received some recognition, but Macbeth comparatively little. Zeb Ward and Autocrat were quietly admired by those who are comparatively little. Zeb Ward and Autocrat were quietly admired by those who are fond of toying with short ones. After one false start, Caldwell got them off the chute in great style and the fun began.

Cheveller led away with Autocrat and Gallifet close up, White third and the others not far off. Into the stretch they swerved, out of the unpopular chute, Col. Zeb Ward holding in front for what was to be only short-lived glory, Alexandria second, White third, Cheveller fourth, Gallifet fith, Autocrat sixth and Mebeth last.

Covington, on the winner of Gayoso Hotel stakes at Memphis, and other leading southern events, was playing an abmirable waiting game, which he kept up, and which, if McCarty on Gallifet had better adhered to, might have led to a more interesting finish. Passing the grand stand, Alexandria moved to the fore to the music of thousands of throats. There his stable companion was second, Chevaller third, White, Macbeth, Ward and Autocrat back in a bunch. Rounding the turn into the back stretch, Gallifet's jockey seemed to become impatient, and let the chestnut have his head, running first by a length almost the entire length to the next turn, the Chevalier second and Macbeth third. Ward had dropped away back, and Alexandria and Autocrat had also appeared to weary of the rapid pace set by the fleet son of Falsetto.

MACBETH WINS.

As they approached the turn, Covington

MACBETH WINS.

As they approached the turn. Covington as seen to give Macbeth more head, and the colt answered like the staying one he proved himself to be. By the time the head proved himself to be. By the time the head of the long run home was reached, he had collared Gallifet and was running easy. McCarty began to use the lash on the favorite, but at the eighth pole it was evident to all that it was no use. Macbeth was running easy with head up and without the least urging. Gallifet was working hard, and as Macbeth passed under the wire a length in front of him he looked severely punished and ready to quit. White was third, two lengths behind, Alexandria, a bad fourth, Chevalier fifth, Autocrat sixth, Ward seventh and last. The time was 1283%, and compares favorably with that made in former Derbies. Macbeth won in a gailop, and seemed ready to go another quarter.

It was stated after the race that the Chi-It was stated after the race that the Chicago stable had certainly won $70,000 on Macbeth, if not more. They closed the winter books on him in New Orleans, this city and probably at other places. That the strapping big dark colt will be heard from again is assured by this performance, as indeed was indicated by his first-class running in the South. Many now think that he was not allowed to win at Nashville and Lexington, as he might have, in order to secure the big odds that were to be had to-day—8 to 1.

MACBETH'S RECORD. It is rather astonishing that odds of 8 to re obtainable against Macbeth, lookin were obtainable against Macbeth, looking at his first-class performances in the South. Macbeth started frequently as a 2-year oid, doing most of his running at Louisville and Latonia. At the latter place, in the fall, he won the Kimball stakes, three-quarters of a mile. Beyond this, his performances attracted but little attention until this year, when his winning the one and an eighth miles handleap at Memphis in 1:55½, with White Nose second and Panama third, and subsequently the Gavosa-hotel stakes from Long Chance and Frederick, brought him into prominence as a Derby candidate. He ran second in the Merchants' Stakes at Memphis. Little Minch winning in 2:10. He was beaten at Nashville in the Troubadour Stakes by Cruiser, Emperor of Norfolk and Volante, and also by Leo in another race at the same place. Poteen beat him at Lexington in the Distillers' Stakes, he running second and the time being 2:08. He ran second in Chevalier Phænix Hotel stakes. White started six or eight times as a2-year-old, running second a number of times in only ordinary field and not winning or doing anything worthy of note. He ran second to Emperor of Norfolk at Nashville in the Lawyers' stakes, the first part of this month, Cruiser being third. The distance was one and three-fourths miles, and the time 2:09%.

Nogales (Ariz.), May 14.—[By the Asciated Press.] Conrad Rolling has been arrested at Huachuca, and is believed to be the leader of the band of train-robbers who attacked the train on the Sonora Railroad on Friday night.

It was the intention to give Rolling and Taylor, the supposed Agua Zarca train-robbers, a hearing this afternoon, but the District Attorney telegraphed that the magistrate has no jurisdiction, as the crime was committed in Mexico. It was expected that there would be pretty strong evidence against both parties in the examination, as evidence of a circumstantial nature is strong against both Taylor and Rolling. The Mexican authorities last night arrested two men, who, they are pretty certain, were the robbers. A large detachment of Mexican troops arrived this morning from Guaymas. The report from the committee charged with the task was submitted to a meeting of the league this evening. The gist of the report was that Gen. She had hardly come to a stand-still when a caboose with four loaded freight cars, which had broken away from the through freight at Colorado Springs, 13 miles away, came dashing down the long grade-at lightning speed, crashing into the express and piling the caboose and first car into ruins on top of the engine and baggage car. The car next to the caboose was a huge tank of naptha, which being wrecked scattered the oil over the depot, cars and adjoining buildings. It which being wrecked scattered the oil over the depot, cars and adjoining buildings. It caught fire, and in an instant everything was in a sheet of games. The engineer and fireman escaped somewhat injured. The Pullman and two day coaches of passengers were hastily detached from the burning baggage car and run down the track to a safe distance from the fire, which had now enveloped the depot, and was rapidly ap-proaching a car of the runaway freight, when an alarm was given that this car was loaded with powder and for every one to

All who heard the warning attempted to obey, but had gone but a short distance when 17,000 pounds of giant powder with when 17,000 pounds of giant powder with which the car was loaded exploded, shaking the earth as though by an earthquake. Twenty houses in the city were almost totally destroyed, together with the new Baptist Church, which was blown from its foundation and scattered over acres of ground. Men and women were knocked senseless, and pieces of broken rails, carwheels and timbers were carried with terrific force for half a mile. A number of freight cars standing on the side track were blown to atoms. The passengers in the "Thunderbolt" were severely shaken up, and a number cut by pieces of glass from the windows, but none were seriously injured. The yard of the Newton Lumber Company took fire, and was completely destroyed. People standing a quarter of a mile from the explosion were hit by flying fragments and badly wounded.

The loss to the town, which was completely ruined, is estimated at $60,000, while the amount of the railroad's loss is variously estimated at trom $75,000 to $100,000. NEW YORK, May 14.—[By the Associated Press.] Bishop Merrill presided at today's session of the Methodist Conference. The Committee on Episcopacy was asked to report Tuesday upon a resolution to elect bishops for a term of eight years. At present the bishops hold office for life, as a matter of usage. Blair Educational Bill is a good measure. The resolution was referred to the Committee on State of the Church. Rev. John Miley of Drew Theological Seminary read his report as fraternal delegate to the Methodist Church South, and Rev. Isaac W. Joyce of Cincinnati read his report as fraternal delegate to the General Conference of the Methodist Church in Canada.

A resolution was introduced, asking the Committee on Episcopacy to provide for balloting for bishops so that one candidate shall be balloted for at a time.

The Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley offered a substitute to the effect that the vote will be taken by orders; that lay delegates and ministerial delegates vote separately. This caused a general and rather excited discussion. I was said that there was lobbying going on for candidates, but the members denied it. Finally, in order to end the discussion ex-Gov. Cumback of Indiana moved the previous question. A number of amendments were offered. When the vote was taken everything was voted down and the discussion closed.

The Southern California Conference offered a resolution that German missions on the Pacific be organized into an annual conference. Referred to the Committee on boundaries. Adjourned.

FLEEING FROM FLOODS.

Dwellers by the Mississippi Driven from Their Homes. St. Louis, May 14.—[By the Associated

Reports from the north are alarming, and if any levee or the Madiso dike breaks the loss will be millions. dike breaks the loss will be millions. A regular exodus has taken place from the river bottoms. The entire town of Alexandria, Mo., is inundated with five feet of water, and the damage is very heavy. People are being taken as fast as possible to the high lands several miles back of the town. The levee is now being patrolled for miles by sentinels whose duty is to summon assistance when any break is observed.

MORE TALES OF DISASTER.

CHICAGO, May 14.—Dismatches to the As-

CHICAGO, May 14.—Dispatches to the Associated Press from several points along the sociated Frees from several points along the upper Mississippl River give accounts of great losses to property owners and vast inundations. The levee that protects the Say bottoms gave away at an early hour this morning and the men engaged in strengthening it had to run for their lives. An opening 100 yards wide was made and the water rushed through and into the bottoms with a roar. Couriers hastened through the bot-there was a wild chase, driving the stock to the highlands. The bottoms are in Illinois and embrace about 100,000 Acres of land, and reach from a point opposite Lordsiana, Mo., to a point opposite Hannibal. At the broadest place they are nearly five miles and the overflows make a great turbulent

The levee broke about six miles above Quincy, III., on the Missouri side.

The break at Alexandria has covered a great area—800,000 acres of land—in the midst of which is a modern Venice with impromptu crafts of—all kinds and sizes. Water floods the town of Alexandria from 2 to 6 feet deep. The people were in a manner prepared for the flood, and the suffering is not great. The bottom was planted in wheat and corn, and the farming community reekon their loss at figures aggregating $500,000. Most of the live stock had been driven to the bluffs.

The situation—at Keokuk is becoming very serious, the railroad yards being entirely submerged and many mills compelled to shut down. At the Government works at Keokuk the stage was 19 feet 1 linch, five inches above the high-water mark of 1881 and within 25 inches of the highest mark on record, that of 1851.

At Burlington, Davenport and other points the water at 10 o'clock tonight is within a few inches of the highest mark known, and is steadily rising. Many establishments near the river are being flooded, and goods are being burriedly removed. Hopes are expressed that the rise will cease soon.

New York, May 14.—[By the Associated Press.] The Attorney-General today made an investigation of the sugar trust on a pe-tition signed by Hugh J. Grant, Richard Crocker and Thomas F. Gilroy, whose com-plaint against the sugar trust has already been made public. They claim that it is illegal for a number of reason. The de-fendant's counsel declared that the complainants were well-known politicians, who had introduced a bill in the State Legislahad introduced a bill in the State Legislature making it a crime to combine for the purpose of fixing the prices of commodities; that this bill said nothing about a combination to fix the price of labor, and that this movement appeared to be for the purpose of arraying labor against capital. It was wholly for political effect. It was unfair and unjust to subject sugar refiners to these annoyances to serve some one's political ends. The Attorney-General will make known his decision as to whether or not he will proceed against the trust in about two weeks.

The total loss will reach $175,000; total insurance, $50,000. PORTLAND (Or.), May 14.-Later reports from Goldendale show that the losses by fire are much heavier than at first reported. Eight blocks were laid in ashes and over 70 houses destroyed. No lives were lost. The fire lasted four hours. The hook and ladder-house was burned early during the fire and left the citizens powerless. The total loss will reach over $200,000, with only about $50,000 insurance. The following is a list of the principal losses: Sig Sichel, general merchandise, $55,000; Cummings & Cram, $25,000; Sentinel Publishing Company, $4000; J. M. Keers & Co., drugs, $6000; C. R. A light breeze was blowing when the fire broke out, but as the flames gained headway the wind naturally increased. In less than an hour it seemed to be a gale blowing from every point of the compass. Farmers in the neighbyfhood seeing the flames, hurried to refuffer assistance, and did good service with teams. A number of men and women fainted from overwork, exhaustion and excitement. been that the road would be a very profitable one, and ought to be built, but he would not recommend the payment of fancy sums for rights of way. The report has gained ground that the Southern Pacific Company was negotiating for the purchase of the San Diego and Elsinore Railroad. Asked as to the truth of the report today, Charles F. Crocker said that there was little in it. There was no doubt that the San Diego and Elsinore Company was willing to sell. It had, in fact, drawn up an agreement for purchase, which had been submitted to the Southern Pacific Company's directors for their approval and signatures, but as yet it had received neither. The route was one not favored by the Southern Pacific people. 'When we go to San Diego,' said the Colonel, 'It will not, be that way.' On the other hand, there are those sage prophets in the railroad world who predict that the Southern Pacific Company will be fighting the Santa Fé on its own ground in San Diego within a year."

OROOKED CHICAGO CONDUC-TORS CAUGHT.

Superintendent Nagle of the West Division Catches Two Fare-collectors Using the "Brother-inlaw"-Specimen Punches.

[Chicago Herald.] Monday night C. F. Nagle, superintendent of conductors, made two important captures on the Madison-street line. Two conductors were taken from their cars, and in the possession of each a "brother-in-law," with the aid of which they had been rophing the each a "brother-in-law," with the aid of which they had been robbing the company, was found.

On the West-side street railways the "brother-in-law" has been doing a land-office business, but, as usual, his carrier has been nipped in the bud.

What a meddlesome mother-in-law is to the domestic circle, a surreptitious "brother-in-law" is to a street-railway corporation—only more so. The corporation — only more so. The "brother-in-law," in the argot of street-car conductors, is a device for circumventing the bell-punch and fare-registers, universally used as a check against the natural tendencies of the autocrats of the rear platform.

HOW "THE TRADE" WAS SUPPLIED. Over a year and a half ago it was learned that a jeweler on Lake street, near Leavitt, was dealing in small and ingeniously-contrived handbells which closely imitated the fare-registers in sound. These were sold to conductors for Except in cash after the Sound weekly sound. These were sold to conductors for $3 each in cash, or $6 or $8 each in cash, or $6 each in $6 each encourage the idea of a rigorous investigation. There was a marked change of policy, however, when Manager Parsons took hold. He said he was determined to have neither drunkards nor thieves on the lines, and the cru-sade against "brothers-in-law" was resumed.

A CROOKED CONDUCTOR CAUGHT. John Ferguson has been a conductor on the west side about six years. He has not been entirely free from suspicion for a year and a half, as about that time he began to be short in his accounts. He was frequently reported, but he was always ready with a plausible excuse. About a month ago the superintendent become convinced that Ferguson was using a "brother-inlaw," and he was put under the active surveillance of the company's inspector. Last night he met his Water-loo. The officials were loaded for him, and when he passed McVicker's Theater, going west, on his last trip, an inspector told him the superintendent wanted to see him in the starter's office, at the corner of State and Madison streets. Ferguson became suspicious at once, and asked what was wanted. The inspector hadsaid that some information was wanted about accident reports that been received, but Ferguson was still indisposed to call upon his superior. At this moment, Superintendent Nagle, who had been on the front platform instructing the driver to pick up a conductor from the first east-going car, he met, walked to the rear and John Ferguson has been a conductor a conductor from the first east-going car, he met, walked to the rear and told Ferguson to leave the car and go with him. Ferguson did so, but when they reached the sidewalk he wanted his captors to take him into an adjacent hallway and discuss their business. The superintendent and inspector each seized one of his arms and he was thus led to the starter's box. After the door was closed Nagle said to Ferguson: "How many fares did you have on the down train?"

HE HAD THIRTY-EIGHT. He answered: "Thirty-eight."
"How do you account for the other 11 fares? You had 49 passengers," Superintendent Nalge said.
"Thirty-eight was all I had," Ferguson repeated.
"I want that 'brother-in-law' you nse "said the superintendent sharply use," said the superintendent, sharp,"

"It's a —— lie: I don't use any,"
Ferguson retorted.
"You have been a thief for two
"You have been a thief for two
"You have been a thief for two

"You have been a thief for two years," the superintendent insisted, sternly, "and I must search you,"
"Search me, then," Ferguson said, defiantly, and Superintendent Nagle proceeded to do so. He found nothing of a suspicious character in Ferguson's pockets. He ordered the conductor to unbutton his overcoat. Ferguson's face and the immediately manifested paled, and he immediately manifested great nervousness. His overcoat was closely buttoned to the fourth button, which was open, the fifth and sixth buttons being closed. The Inspector loosed the lower buttons, opened the coat, and disclosed a silver watch chain hanging convenient to the open space made by the loosening of the fourth button. He pressed his garent way and a proper size. his search upward, and on Ferguson's upper chest he found the "brother-in-law." It is the most elaborate de in-law." It is the most elaborate de vice ever discovered on this line. It is of a circular form, about two and one-quarter inches across the face, with the gong or bell inclosed in a perforated white-metal case. It was suspended from Ferguson's neck by a leather strap, the loop of which was large enough to pass over his head. From the center of the lower rim the armature confected with a spring and the striking hammer depended; to this one end of the watchchain was fastened, the other end being attached to the the other end being attached to the wearer's timepiece in his vest pocket. Whenever he wanted to steal a fare he pulled the watchchain through the open place in his coat, producing the "tintinabulation of the bell" and beating the register with the single simple twist of his wrist.

HE WAS KNOCKED OUT. The detected conductor, completely crestfallen, submitted quietly while the money in his possession was being taken from him. He was, also, relieved of his badge, No. 69, and register; the buttons were cut off his coat, and he was ordered to get out. He obeyed quickly, and with a sigh of relief, as he had fully expected to be taken to the police station.

REGULATION PUNCH AND BADGES. Ten minutes before Ferguson was put on the rack, M. Christiansen, con-ductor 84, of the Madison-street line, ductor 84, of the Madison-street line, was put through the same ordeal in the starter's box. He has been short in his accounts about a year, and the inspectors were put on his trail at the same time that Ferguson was marked for the siaughter. He was captured as his car was rounding the corner of Madison street, westward bound. He was enticed into the starter's office by a fairy story, and then he was asked to give an account of his last-half trip. He said he had 39 passengers, but Superintendent Nagle told him it would be necessary for him to account for 45 fares, and if he failed to do so it would be necessary for him to submitto a search.

would be necessary for him to submit to a search.

A "brother-in-law" of an entirely different style from that captured on Ferguson was found. It is small enough to be handly concealed in the palm of a hand of ordinary size. In shape it is in the form of a small, bisected globe, with a flat undersurface, and arching convexly. It is perforated on the top and sides to permit the free passage of the sound of the bell. The armature is a small bar, extending from the lower side, and connected with a spring which, upon press'ire, releases a small hammer to strike upon the miniature gong. The recoil of the spring catches the hammer in a slot, from which it is pressed into action by a touch on the cap of the armature. This "brother-in-law" is one of the kind made by the Lake-street artist. Its original cost could not be more than 25 cents, and, at his price of $3 cash, or $5 on short time, the inventor realized a handsome profit. a handsome profit.

THERE IS MORE TO FOLLOW. Superintendent Nagle believes that at least a dozen of the "brothers-in-law" have been in active operation on the west side, and thinks if is likely that many more have been used on the that many more have been used on the other city lines. The company has direct evidence against Ferguson and Christiansen, and the makers of the swindling devices, all of whom are apt to be prosecuted, for the purpose of making examples of them.

Ferguson is about 45 years of age, chipper, and a great talker. He is married, and has lived well. He worked his scheme alone, being afraid of his driver, whose son is the receiver for the company at its station on Madison and Fortieth streets. He never used his begus punch on the front platform, and but rarely in the body of the car, the rear platform being the favored scene of his operations. It is believed that Ferguson knocked down lieved that Ferguson knocked down from $4 to $6 a day, and Nagle believes that he has taken hundreds of dollars that he has taken hundreds of dollars of the company's money.

Christiansen is a blonde Swede of quiet manners, whose pilferings it is not thought will exceed a few hundred dollars. He doesn't confine himself to the back platform in his use of the "brother-in-law," but worked wherever he happened to be when the notion seized him to divide the "eccipts with the company. His daily "purloinings are estimated at from $2 to $4. When he was detected, he was stripped in the same way as Ferguson. Each man will lose his deposit of $25 in the hands of the company, as well as their wages, or about $25 more apiece. The officials believe the detected men are in a position to bear this loss gracefully. tion to bear this loss gracefully.

New York, May 14.—The stock market was very dull today except during the first hour, and while the general drift of prices was upward in the morning, they reacted later in the day. Trading was more uninteresting than any day during the past month, and outside of a few shares there was no movement of any kind. The crosing prices were about equally divided between fractional losses and gains. Government bonds were quiet but strong. Mining shares were duil.

It is now believed that the man who was reported as having fallen down the stairs in the Downey block, was knocked in the head, robbed and thrown down the steps. His name is W. S. They had been sentenced to pay a fine of $15 or be confined in the County Jail for 15 days. They refused to pay the money, but furnished ball. The case was continued until Thursday. Willamette Breakey in a suit just commenced by him against P. H. Lemmert, the Willamette against P. H. Lemmert, the Willamette Steam Mills, Lumbering and Manufacturing Company and il. Lothian & Co.

The defendant Lemmert owned certain real estate in Los Angeles and contracted for the erection of a building upon his land with W. E. Lane. Last December Lane entered into a contract with the plaintiff in the present suit to supply all the hardware needed, the terms of which contract were duly observed by plaintiff. The building has been completed, but there is a balance of $399.28 still due by Lane for hardware supplied, and for this amount, with costs of suit, judgment is asked; also that the premises may be sold to satisfy the lien. The other defendants claim an interest in the building and have consequently been made parties to the suit.

MME. RHEA.

Her Little Land Scheme in Southern California Causes Trouble. During the recent visit of Madame Rhéa

to Los Angeles THE TIMES drew attention to the fact that she had purchased certain real estate at Burbank, where she proposed building a villa residence. A suit arising from that sale has been commenced by Mr. Raskin, a real-estate agent, who was employed by Mr. Burbank, acting as agent, and one of the parties principally concerned in the Providencia Land Company, to effect a sale of land in the town of Burbank to Mme. Rhéa. Mr. Raskin drove the actress and her little party about, and went to quite a considerable expense in showing the beauties of the suburban retreat. Finally he effected the sale of 48 acres, upon which he chaimed $250 commission, in consonance with his previous agreement with Burbank. The latter gentleman has refused to pay, and repudiates the agreement, hence the present action. It seems that Mr. Burbank himself was angling for a commission from the company in which he is so largely interested, and so far the affair looks as if Raskin had done the work for which Burbank had received pay. In addition to the above, Raskin, in his capacity as editor of Le Progress, has instituted a separate suit against the Providencia Land Company to recover $40 for advertising. in the Providencia Land Company, to effect

Chinese Highbinders Piug Cold Lead Into Each Other. Friday night about 11 o'clock a Chinaman named Quong Quee shot and almost instantly killed another Chinaman named Ah Kim. The tragedy occurred in the sleeping quarters of the laborers at the residence of J. W. Hugus. The facts, as near as can be learned, are as follows:
Quong Quee went out to the place to visit his cousin, who is employed by Mr. Hugns, and was put in Ah kim's room to sleep. Ah
Kim had been out visiting, and on his return, in entering his room, awakened Quong Quee, who, thinking that it was a burglar, drew his pistol from under his pillow and fired, the bullet taking effect in Ah Kim's abdomen, inflicting a mortal wound.
Coroner Meredith was notified, and went out yesterday morning and held an inquest.
The heathens told several stories about the affair, after which the jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from the effects of a gunshot wound inflicted by Quong Quee. near as can be learned, are as follows:

HOLLENBECK BLOCK, Second and Spring streets, Los Angeles, California. CONSUMPTION.

From consumers, "to waste away," usually applied to the advanced stage of lung disease.

The following are prominent symptoms in the first stage, and whenever any of them exist a thorough examination should be made, with a view to arresting the disease as shown to exist: There is usually a sense of weariness upon a little exercise, a disposition to remain passive, and idle, despondency, often from no apparent cause, a peculiar sergistiveness upon moving quickly, or descending a hill of saiars, a slight, hacking cough, with or without expectoration, excitability upon slight occasions, flying pains through the chest or back, or under the shoulder blades. The symptoms are more noticeable toward or during the night, slight fover in the afternoon, cold feet or hands, or, in many cases, blue lividity of the lips and roots of the fingernais.

Constitutional or tubercular consumption is cold reet or hands, or, in many cases, blue lividity of the lips and roots of the fingernalis.

Constitutional or tubercular consumption is a common form of lung disease. The progress is slow, but if left to tatelf is no less sure. It usually begins with a dry cough. At first these tubercles are exceedingly minute, the patient not at all suspecting their presence, Gradually they develop into more active disease, and then follows the train of symptoms which leaves no doubt as to its true character. Somenimes spitting of blood or slight streaks in the mucus is the first indication of tubercular deposits, or it may be a chilly sensation in the back, followed by more or less heat in the paims of the hands, or an afternoon fluas on the cheeks. The slow and gradual inroads of this form of consumption leave the stomach and appetite undisturbed for a considerable time. Finally, however, hectic fever and night sweats supervene, preceeded by diarrhess. Then the loss of strength and flesh becomes rapid, the chest contracts, the features sharpen, the eye attains an unusual brills ney and the patient begins to realize that he is in the last stage of confirmed constitutional consumption.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as a our office and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured representations and these cases oured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Ever then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the muous and in contracting and healing the cavities which nothing else can do with the ame success.
